

Chabad Center of Dayton presents:

THE PROBLEM OF EVIL

why people suffer

The existence of evil and suffering has vexed theologians for centuries and has frustrated the great philosophers of every age.

But this problem isn't peculiar to academics- it is a question we all ponder at some point in our life.

Explore this thought provoking topic with

Dr. George Schlesinger,

Professor of Philosophy at the University of North Carolina and author of eleven philosophical works. Dr. Schlesinger's insight sheds light on complicated philosophical and religious issues.
